

People say, "I don't have time to meditate," , but they "have time" to feel low-level energy, to feel stuck, to feel unproductive.
In order to move through obstacles, we need to feel vibrant and vital.
In this mindfulnes ...

Problem We Are Trying to Solve

During this event we would like to help residents of St. Christopher's Oncology Hospice and support their needs.

How We Are Going To Do It

We are urgently collecting funds to support St. Christopher's Oncology Hospice – our Charity of the Year partner. With support from Credit Suisse, the hospice will be able to secure access of the on premise hospice to:

- good quality food for patients;
- undisturbed service of medical waste utilization;
- undisturbed service of laundry services;
- good quality specialized cleaning services;
- other needs connected with COVID-19 quarantine and hygienic issues.

Who Benefits

With support from Credit Suisse, the hospice will be able to secure access of the on premise hospice to:

- good quality food for patients;
- undisturbed service of medical waste utilization;
- undisturbed service of laundry services;
- good quality specialized cleaning services;
- other needs connected with COVID-19 quarantine and hygienic issues.
- promoting altruistic and open to the other attitudes in the society,
- encouraging young people to engage in practical help for suffering people,
- acquiring the funds needed for the ongoing operation of the Oncology Hospice Foundation,
- ensuring that help given to other people will return back to us

Long Term Impact

- promoting altruistic and open to the other attitudes in the society,
- encouraging young people to engage in practical help for suffering people,
